ECCLESIAE

SANCTI PAULI

E hujus illustris Templi fundatione nonnihil quidem discrepant Scriptores : opinio tamen receptissima est, Primò ab Æthelberto Cantij Regulo, circiter annum redemptionis 610. conditum esse, qui illi possessiones dedit, ut apparet.

Ædelbertus Rex Deo inspirante, pro anima sua remedio, dedit Episcopo Melito terram qua appellatur Tiltingham ad Monaster. suis solatium, scilicet S. Pauli: Et ego Rex Æthelbertus ita firmiter concedo tibi Præsuli Melito potestatem eius habendi, & possidendi ut in perpetuum in Monasterij utilitate permaneat, &c.

Æthelstanus, Edgarus, Edouardus nomine Confessor, & alij possessiones illi dederunt.

Rex Guilielmus Victor ædi S. Pauli Mauricioque illo tempore Episcopo & successoribus ejus Stort-

ford arcem, quæque ad eam pertinent, dedit. Munera etiam majorum suorum confirmavit.

Diploma Guiljelmi Victoris huic S. Pauli Templo datum, memoriæ proditum in Turre Londinensi conspiciendum est.

Anno 1087. hoc Templum flammis absumptum est, unâque cum illo maxima pars Ciuitatis. Ex quo Mauricis tunc Episcopus novæ ædis fundamentum ponebat: opus quod nunquam perfectum iri putabant, eò longitudinis & latitudinis in immensum productum est; idemque est fornicatis lapidibus (vt ab igne defendatur) edificatum, quod artificium hujus gentis populo prius incognitum est, à Gallis huc allatum, lapides vero à Cano in Normandia adducti sunt.

Hic Mauricius, anno 1107. mortem cum vita commutavit, Richardo Beau<sup>met</sup>~~met~~ (non Beamor vt ait Stow) in Episcopatum illi succedente, qui Templum illud mirificè exauxit, proprioq; sumptu, omnes circa ipsum plateas & viculos (in quibus antea habitavit vulgus) vt in illis pij sanctique homines habitent, inque illorum beneficium nactus est.

Turris vel Pyramis hujus Templi anno 1222. condita est.

Novum (vt dicitur) S. Pauli opus, ad Orientem, & à fronte Chori (vel loci in quo canunt) anno 1251. perfectum est.

Henricus Lacy Comes Lincolnienfis, Angliæ Custos &c. Et Rodulfus Balduck Episcopus London, magna in hanc ædem (circiter annum 1310.) beneficia contulerunt.

Anno

Anno 1444. Pyramis secundò, fulmine incensa est, & magno labore, breui tempore, aceto (vt quidem apparebat,) restinguebatur : sed paulò post, prorupit rursus ignis, non sine magno cum lignei tum plumbei operis detrimento : sed anno 1462. resecta & renovata est.

Anno 1561. ista Pyramis iterum, cælitus fulmine incensa est, tantaque vi & ardore flagrauit, vt brevi tempore tota Pyramis unâ cum tota Templi testudine, cum ex ligno tum explumbo, consumpta sit, non sine magna lamentatione perpetuaque spectantium (quorum aliqui adhuc animam ducunt) memoriâ. Peraçto hoc gravi infortunio, Serenissima Regina Elizabetha p. m. ad D. Præto-rem (ut quam celerrimè reparetur,) literas misit, illâque ipsa pro ingenua sua indole & liberalitate euestigiò 1000. Marcas aureas, & ex sylvis suis 1000. lignorum vehes, ad expeditam ejus restaurationem donabat.

Ut taceam quid de Templi longitudine, latitudinèque, & Pyramidis altitudine. (quæ ad hoc non pertinent) dici possit : Habet hoc Templum Gubernatores, Episcopum, Decanum, Præcentorem, Cancellarium, Quæstorem, & quinque Archidiaconos ; nimirum, London, Midlessex, Essex, Colchester, & S. Albans : habet Præbendarios triginta, & ad Chorum in re divina instruendum, Canonicos parvos (vulgo Peti-canons) duodecim, Vicarios chorales sex, Choristas decem.

Collector ad Lectorem.

E piscoporū Catalogū à principio, ad hoc usque tempus, annectendum æquum putavi. De Decanis verò non multis verbis opus est; non tamen doctissimi illius Ioannis Coleti, veri Euangelij in illa nebulosa tempestate Papistica (annis ab hinc jam centum) professoris, nomen, memoriamque fœlicem oblivione possum obruere: nec (ad semicentum annos) reverendi Alexandri Nowelli illius sanctissimi viri, qui Decanatui quadraginta amplius annis, omnium omnis generis hominum, præcipuè bonorum, summo amore præfuit. Et non solum nomine bonus appellatus est, sed etiam & in vita sua bonitas apparuit, & in morte bona sua opera illum sunt sequuta, & uberius & fusiùs in Effigibus nostris & vitis illustrium Anglorum cum de Coletio tum de illo apparet: (quæ nunc transmarino habitu vestiendæ sunt:) quare hic illum pluribus prosequi verbis non est opus. Nec omittendum puto ejus successorem Ioannem Ouerall, S. Theologiæ Doctorem, virum summa doctrina, ingenio acuto, judicioque sagacissimo præditum, qui dignitatem bona laude & applausu (de quo ipse testimonium possum perhibere) annos tredecim obtinuit: & nunc præsentis anno 1614. illo à supremo nostro Rege Iacobo ad Coventriæ & Lichfeldiæ Episcopatum provecto, visum est Majestati suæ ad hunc Decanatum Valentinum Carey generosi & ingenui sanguinis, S. Theologiæ Doctorem, Christi Collegij Cantabrigiensis Magistrum, virumque, ut dicunt, doctrina & eruditione non multis inferiorē, promovere. Et sic, candide Lector, vale & fruiere.

 of SAINT PAULES Church.

About the foundation of this famous Church writers do somewhat varie : but the most received opinion is, that it was first founded by Aethelbert King of Kent : about the yeere of Christ 610. who gaue thereto lands, as appeareth ;

King Aethelbert, God inspiring him, for the peace of his soule, hath giuen to Bishop Mellitus certaine land called Tillengham, towards the maintenance of his Monastery, of S. Paul : And Aethelbert the King doe firmly graunt to thee Mellitus the Prelate, full power to haue and to hold it for the perpetuall profit of the said Monasterie, &c.

Aethelstane, Edgare, Edward the Confessor and others gaue lands thereynto.

William the Conquerour gaue to the Church of S. Paul, and to Mauricius then Bishop, and his successors, the castle of Stortford with the appurtenances: He also confirmed the gifts of his Predecessours.

The Charter of William Conquerour giuen to this Church of S. Paul is recorded and to bee seene in the Tower of London.

In the yeere 1087. this Church was burnt with fire, and therewith the most part of the Citie: wherevpon Mauricius then Bishop, began the foundation of a new Church: a worke that men thought would neuer haue been finished, it was to them so wonderfull for length and bredth, and also the same was builded vpon arched vaults of stone for defence against fire, which was a manner of worke till then vnknowne to the people of this nation; brought in by the French, and the stone from Cane in Normandie.

This Mauricius deceased in the yeere 1107. Richard Beaumont (not Beaumont as Stow saith) succeeding him in the Bishopricke, who did wonderfully increase the said Church, purchasing at his owne cost all the streetes and lanes about it (wherein before did dwell many lay people) for religious men to dwell in, and for their benefit &c.

The tower or steple of this Church was finished, ann. 1222.

The new worke of Paules, so called, at the East end aboue the Quier, was finished, ann. 1251.

Henry Lacy Earle of Lincolne, Custos of England &c. and Ralfe Baldock Bishop of London were great benefactors vnto this Church about the yeere yeere 1310. Anno 1444. the steeple was the second time fired by lightning, and by great labour the same was in short time, to appearance, quenched with vineger: but within a few houres the fire burst forth againe and did much hurt to the timber and leaden worke: but in the yeere 1462. it was repaired and amended.

Anno 1561. this steeple was againe set on fire by lightning from heauen, and it burned with such vehemencie, that within a short space all the spire of the steeple, with all the roofes of the Church both leaden-worke and timber-worke were consumed, to the great sorrow and perpetuall remembrance of the beholders (diuers whereof are yet liuing.) After this great misfortune, Queene Elizabeth of blessed memory directed letters to the Lord Major for the speedy repaying of the same, and She of her owne gracious disposition and bounty, did giue presently in gold 1000. markes, and a warrant for a 1000. loads of timber to be taken out of her woods, to further the reparation thereof, &c.

To omit what might bee said concerning the height of the steeple, the length and bredth of the Church, as things impertinent; this Church hath for Gouvernours, a Bishop, a Deane, a Precentor, a Chauncellor, a Treasurer, and 5. Archdeacons; to wit, of London, Middlesex, Essex, Colchester, and S. Albans: it hath Prebendaries 30. and to furnish the Quire in diuine seruice, Pety-canon 12. Vicars chorall 6. Queristers 10. &c.

The Collector to the Reader.

IN memoriall of this deceased Nobleman, falsely termed Duke Humphrey, diuers men of late yeeres, and those no worse than Citizens and Tradesmen, forsooth, on S. Andrewes day before Christmas after they haue met and foole-wisely in the morning come and presented themselves before his Monument, they haue had a feast prepared, and assumed vnto themselves to haue offices vnder the said Duke Humphrey &c.

Secondly, on May-day, a certaine rude company of Tankerd-bearers haue vsed to come betimes in the morning, and there as idle as the others, haue presented themselves before the same Monument, and strewen hearbes, and sprinkled water vpon it, terming themselves Duke Humphreys seruants in seuerall offices, &c. But I vnderstand that the now liuing Bell-ringers, who keep the Church doores, haue debarred both the one and the other for offering any idle ceremonie at the monument: telling them if they had any thing to doe at Duke Humfseys monument, they should goe to S. Albans, where indeed it is: and vnto them I referre you for a further relation of these vanities.

But thirdly, there are another sort of sworne seruants and resident attendants on this deceased Nobleman, who doe daily giue their attendance, and offer their hungry deuotions vnto his shrine: and yow shall be sure to find some or other of them euery day throughout the yeere there waiting, berwixt the houres of twelue and one at noone:

Of whom I haue no more to say,

For with a Thought, what I am, you may be.

So Mors neere Mars is found.
